Alliance Virtual Fleet

Optimize operations, manage more efficiently, and grow your business profitably

Without proper dispatching and load planning, your fleet can struggle to produce efficient and timely routes, and to keep customers informed due to a lack of visualization. Fleets need a dispatch and load planning system that can provide full visualization of all their resources, along with the ability to manage those resources. With Alliance Virtual Fleet in place, fleets will gain a more compliant, profitable, and efficient business.

With Alliance Virtual Fleet, companies are able to better control their rapidly growing business through the use of a dispatch and load planning software that will allow them to input orders, manage trips, create general reports, and visualize their carriers in real time.

With Alliance Virtual Fleet, fleets can:

- Improve dispatch efficiency
- Enhance network relations
- Increase profitability with lasting relationships
- Improve customer satisfaction with the ability to track loads instantly
- Grow business without adding IT staff
- Save money by avoiding hardware cost
- Operate efficiently with less paper, effort, searching, and calls

The time-saving Virtual Fleet system seamlessly integrates between carriers, which allows fleets to broker loads to partner carriers with ease. The system also provides the ability to enter orders, manage trips, and track loads — in real time. The additional capability of automatic expected time of arrival calculations and automatic event notifications via email, keeps shippers informed and eliminates the need for excessive phone calls. Fleet managers who need information wherever they are can also access all the information they need anywhere with internet access. All of these factors make Omnitracs Sylectus Virtual Fleet the complete dispatch system for carriers and brokers, because it allows fleets to leverage the resources of other companies to achieve extraordinary results for their customers.
